TaxCure and Tax Rep Network Partner to Provide IRS Representation Education and Training to TaxCure Professionals

TaxCure and Tax Rep Network introduce live training series with lessons on resolving taxpayer tax debts and adding tax representation services as a revenue stream.

New Haven, CT. (August 25, 2023)— TaxCure, a leading online directory for thousands of tax professionals across the United States and Tax Rep Network (TRN), the premier tax representation education and training resource for tax and accounting professionals, today announced their partnership that will make a comprehensive library of educational tools and significant new revenue growth opportunities available to TaxCure customers.

In addition to in addition to IRS representation training sessions, the partnership will enable tax professionals to explore adding new revenue streams to their practices with tax resolution services.

“Partnering with TRN is part of our ongoing commitment to delivering the best training, tools and resources to support our online community of tax professionals,” said Charles Corsello co-founder of TaxCure. “We are excited to leverage the deep expertise of Tax Rep Network to help our clients get access to the best in tax representation education and resources.”

A free one-hour training session on digital marketing for IRS Representation on August 29, 2023 will be held to launch the partnership.

“Offering tax representation services is a key strategic opportunity for tax firms to grow their revenue,” said Eric Green, partner in Green and Sklarz, LLC a Connecticut-based law firm and founder of Tax Rep Network. “Learning about the IRS enforcement process and how to identify opportunities to resolve tax issues will enable tax professionals to effectively and efficiently help clients facing tax issues. These services are in high demand and only increasing with a properly funded IRS.”
